Nature vs. Nurture (13 min)

Objective: SWBAT: Explain how people's personality develops over the course of a lifetime by writing notes based on the PowerPoint and by talking with classmates

Personality: the sum total of behaviors attitudes beliefs and values that are characteristic of an individual

Since the beginning of time, social scientists have been arguing about how our personality develops. Some say our personality is the result of nature others say our personality is the result of nurture...There are pretty good arguments on either side

Nature: (genetics)

Everything we do is the result of instincts:
(a biologically inherited behavioral pattern)

Nature Argument: our personality develops as a result of our natural instincts

ex:

-laughing, motherhood, warfare all
are the result of instincts

Nurture: (your upbringing)

Everything we do is the result of nurture:
(your upbringing)

People believed this because Pavlov was able to train dogs to drool when he showed them food.

Nurture Argument: our personality develops as a result of how we were raised,
the things we were exposed to, etc.

ex:

-laughing, motherhood, warfare all
are the result of upbringing

Think/Turn/Talk:

Which side do you take? Why?
